Your high school years have been like no other. Just over twenty-five percent through your high school career, COVID shut down our school for nearly a year and a half. During that time, learning transformed from the in-person schooling to which we had become accustomed, to the world of Zoom and remote learning. Our chromebooks and Google Classroom came to dominate your sophomore and junior years. And as challenging as these months were, you persevered.

You came back in-person for your senior year, and you quickly adjusted to the return of in-person learning. You dove into your classes, and you acquainted yourself with the length of the school day. You made sure that your senior year counted; that you took the classes, joined the teams, sought out the new opportunities you wanted to experience before graduation. The flexibility, persistence, and resilience you learned though your high school years will serve you well throughout your careers; throughout your life. I congratulate you and applaud you, and with you the best of luck and great fortune in the years yet to come.

-Andrew Bott

While these past 4 years have not been ideal, you have found a way to make the best of the circumstances and fight through adversity. We are extremely proud of your accomplishments and given that you will be receiving your high school diploma despite all that life has thrown your way speaks volumes to your perseverance, hard work, and determination. I wish you nothing but the best as you continue your life's journey, and I hope that you come back to visit us soon. Best of luck!

-Mr. de la Rosa
